

Nicole Frambach joined NVR, Inc. in 2017 as a Land Acquisition Manager within the Charlotte North Division after seven years of experience working in Commercial Brokerage and Development. Her key duties focus on strategic site acquisition through relationships with Land Sellers, Brokers, Developers and Municipalities. In this role, Ms. Frambach facilitates the discussion between land owners, brokers, developers, engineers, and municipalities to encourage the timely and cost efficient development of each new community.

Ms. Frambach graduated in 2007 from East Carolina University, where she earned a BS in International Business and Finance, and a BA in French. She is an active member of Urban Land Institute (ULI) serving on the Programs Committee, the Young Leaders Committee and the Women's Leadership Initiative; the Home Builders Association of Greater Charlotte; and the International Council of Shopping Centers. She is licensed in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

Outside of the office, Ms. Frambach enjoys participating in many philanthropic activities. She sits on the board for the Western North Carolina chapter of the Alzheimer's Association as well as that of Females in Action (FiA), a peer-led workout group, whose mission is to make women stronger in all areas of their lives.
